San Francisco

April 20, 2019

April 2019 saw the return of the Saint Stupid's Day Parade to the Financial District and the tightening of the lug nuts! Old San Francisco and New San Francisco will remain connected for another year. On April 10, the Event Horizon Telescope project released the first ever image of a black hole. On April 15, from around the world, we watched in alarm and sorrow as fire raged through the cathedral of Notre-Dame de Paris. Let the rebuilding begin. In this issue, ROARSHOCK PAGE presents the sixth Paris Cut-Up by D. A. Wilson, composed a year ago a few blocks away from the old medieval church.

PARIS CUT-UP #6

Out from the long hollow horn refilling with Scotsman walked in the bog, he said leaning Wilson. Tip of his tongue Anton saw a tab and a long drink from ills. Then he dragged his staggered off to his tent, antisocial and unknown, sat down cross-legged in Scotch into his brass pack in the amber liquid in south, gathered together in a huddle - arms about each awaiting initiation bang as a firecracker broke and the men began the beach towards the fire pit candles and smoky incense men around the bed of glow that would be in order. How should take? One Rolph looking out over the top of churning black ocean and from the west on the night crash of the waves against flowing passed his ears was the beach and on it had died down and the pit glowing red coals. At the candles burned a large PAGE because no one under I know that some of you first time, Burrows started.
