Summer 2001. A time of returning. ROARSHOCK PAGE is older and wiser, and reminds all that our individual dreams and troubles reflect our common challenges. We need to work together for the betterment and stewardship of creation. Using the methods of science, with the aim of religion, we make art and love under the creative summer sun.

SUMMER SCHOOL SESSIONS

Existential vacuum. Nothing expected. Everything is weird and the outcome is mysterious.

My eyes have seen the glory of the building of the school, and have brought down fire and brimstone into the deep primordial pool. Out picking up the paper early on Sunday morning...

They put us all in a big room with padded walls for about five hours, and when they saw how we came out of there they said, "Don't let anybody else into that room!"

Basically speaking, we all play games. Throw the bait, somebody takes the bait, hook, line and sinker, and somebody gets hurt. Active aggression, repression, reanalysis, procrastination. Sleep! Sleep! All asleep! Wake up! Wake up! Fire!

Affirmed as a human being. An actor's life for me! Hi! This is the real me! (?) That which we most want is the same as that which we most fear. How come we spend our time putting each other through so much shit? All around I see people going through these same old trips. I thought I was the only one who had been through that. We are all in this together. It's a scam.

Only if you become as little children shall you ever enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Games. Too many games. Victim - Persecutor - Rescuer. Games can be played from monster different perspectives, results of games are negative. Backgammon. Chuckwagon. Woop! Woop! Woop! Look at this e-model I have got, and I'm gonna make it!

New piece of cloth that will package things nicely, but keep it all legal. Fifteen flamethrowers are there to light the fire!!!

Life goes on. Even when a June heat wave goes on and on and everyone becomes a touch deranged. School's out, and everyone off partying, standing around drinking large amounts of beer, listening to rock-n-roll hip hop jazz and talking rap rap rap this that and the other thing. The cat outside the window meow meow meow, jumps in through the bedroom window. grey cat meow meow meow. The cooling fog comes and soothes.

Seems like I have been here before, chuckles, massive amounts of espresso. No wonder I can't sleep; the caffeine must be counter-balancing the alcohol: in my blood.

Some good pot honey that binds these forces together.

Solitary bird, lost in this social jungle. I wonder at what's the value of all this? Game going. Nobody ever gave me normal lessons, and I don't take normal pills in the morning. Sometimes the facade wears a little thin. Hells. Heavens. Times up. Running around the edges of the mouse pad, looking for a nice piece of virtual cheese.

June 23. How did this sneak up on me? Psychological world maps sailing high and dry around the room or battered factions of editorial hoop-wah. Fictional daydream.

Hive on drugs. Scored some dispensed hash yesterday from the twilight hash dispensary - good, but prices are high and amounts are small. She picked me up at 7:43 and had me drive her car to the Duck Pond. She had been out all night partying.

The unconscious always strikes terror into the reason of men.

The grandfather of modern psychology. The Id drives desires. The Ego is referee. The SuperEgo, morals, never that can be. Ego states. Child, natural parent, judging and nurturing, adult reason.

Remember this. It could be most important. Never write in pencil. A house is a good place to hang out. Summer '71, '81, '91, '01, '11, '21, '31.....

How here, we lost a half an hour hear this evening, through some freakish church of coincidence.

There was much uproar, and the good people were not amused. There was little or no directness and much beating around the Bush. The games are bad. Move to direct transmission.

Hark! Pencil markings have been written in a curious hand upon the parchment. An indifferent passing of an indifferent time. What? Hark! Faster! Faster! Fast!

Love! Lust! Infatuation! Such is in my head. What for? How far? Has the end of the world been postponed?

Amazing phantasmical happenings on many different levels of reality and definitions of weirdness. What changes can occur in a day! Words can emerge from unexpected sources. Inter-action can cause embarrassment. Faster! Faster! Slower. Fast!

1. I can take better care of myself.
